HELLO

#604FDD means a series of numbers for you. But it can be a proper color for a shape as well. This is the way how I've been realizing the world around me over 8 years.

I've always preferred the community-based knowledge, that's why I trained myself. My skills/perspective came from the digital world. But I never forget the oldest tools: paper and pen to sketch my ideas.

I always looking for new challenges in my life/career. My own curiosity makes the greatest motivation. That was the exact reason to shift from print media to UI/UX community.

What is the value in a company for me? I really love working with talented people and I'm open to learning from them. It's important for me to educate myself. That's why I always keep on asking. I have to note I'm not perfect, it's really hard for me to remember people's name and I don't like tofu.
